

Windstar Cruises

General Information

There's simply an untethered joy in sailing, in traveling at a relaxed pace, with the brilliance of the sun and stars overhead. Long teak decks warm the soles of your bare feet. In the distance lie islands, their lush green shoulders rising from the sea, while just a few feet below a school of playful dolphins surf the ship's wake. Sailing under its banner phrase "180 degrees from ordinary," Windstar offers luxury and superb cuisine, yet with a casual, intimate ambiance and relaxed dress code. Its three sleek, motorized sailing vessels, which ply uncommon, small-ship destinations like the exclusive Islands of the Caribbean. Costa Rica, Belize & the Mayan Riviera. The Greek Isles & Mediterranean along with many other signature destinations.

Opportunities to wear sandals and shorts, spend long days in port and honor a "no-tipping policy" are the allures of a Windstar cruise. Modern staterooms and suites provide cozy, yet spacious accommodations. All vessels feature delicious dishes, a gaming casino, a fitness room, an outdoor pool and hot tub, plus a fully stocked library.

With a staff of 90 (Wind Spirit and Wind Star) and 190 (Wind Surf), - more than one crew member for every two guests, you can be sure that a staff member is on call around the clock, and the result is the level of personal service that's recognized among cruising's "Best." (Listed in the 2004 World's Best Service Travel + Leisure Readers' Poll.) Windstar, in fact, was designed to offer an alternative to modern cruising, wrapped up in the soul of a magnificent yacht.

Wind Spirit

Identical to the Wind Star, this intimate, 148-guest, yacht-like vessel presents a chic, yet casual style of cruising for those who enjoy informal attire at night, single open seating and some of the finest food and service at sea. The Wind Spirit has open-air sports platform equipped with sailboards, snorkeling gear, water skis, sailboats and kayaks - enough to keep the most avid water-sports lover happy. There's a swimming pool, hot tub and fitness room, too. Or, sit in a lounge chair on deck and listen to the flap of the sails overhead. Public spaces are light and airy, done in natural fabrics and polished woods. There's open seating in the dining room, which is supplemented by breakfast and lunch in The Veranda, an indoor/outdoor restaurant on the top deck. Passengers are welcome to stop by the bridge to chat with officers and learn how the computer-operated sails work. All cabins boast ocean views
